

Hat's What I Said

This game is a playful approach to speaking and storytelling that urges the speaker to explore their creative use of humour and skilful use of a visual aid.

- Participants all come along to the club night wearing a hat and prepared to deliver a presentation centred around explaining their history with the hat.
- After each speech, the audience then decide whether the story about the hat is true or not.

Mix it up

- Three participants offer an explanation as to why a hat (same hat for the 3 participants) is theirs and then face questions from the audience before people vote for who is they think is telling the truth.
- The participants are all members of the “(Place) Hat Appreciation Society” and everyone is invited to wax lyrical about the unique qualities of their hat. Extravagant exaggeration encouraged!
